

DAILY DEMOCRAT

THE LATE LYNNING.
An International Question.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 15, 1868.

THE CITY.

Bills & Precedents.

Henry Children was yesterday arrested and lodged in jail on a charge of obtaining goods under false pretenses.

We would call the attention of our readers to the new time-table of the Jeffersonville railroad, which will be sound for ten days.

First-street Station.

We found the names of John Eads and Phil Metcalf registered on the state last night, under the head of "drunk and disorderly."

Shooting with Intent to Kill.

The case of Columbus Talbot, for shooting G. Barber with intent to kill, was yesterday called in the City Court, and continued for ten days.

Rather Unpleasant.

The atmosphere was quite general yesterday, and a great part of the day a high wind hampered the dust in clouds, fairly enveloping the city and almost suffocating its inhabitants.

Shooting After Trial.

We learn that a man named Bowes shot and mortally wounded another man, with whom he had an alteration, night before last. It occurred near the sulphur well, on the Preston street road. We were unable to learn the name of the wounded man, or any of the particulars of the affair.

A Luxurious Lunch.

We return our thanks to the excellent ladies of St. Michael's table at the Orleans, for a rich oyster stew, flavored by all the connoissements necessary to make a lunch, serve to us on our return last night. This table is in charge of Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Gorman and Mrs. Green, all ladies of untiring energy and ever forenoon in leading a helping hand in a good cause.

Cyrus' Fair.

The fair now in progress at Madison, for the benefit of the orphans of the St. Vincent asylum, has been a decided success. As it will close tomorrow, we will take a look at the countess' novelties and parades of the luxuries prepared by the hands of the fair ladies. The cause is a noble one, and should enlist the sympathy of all, cast your bread upon the waters.

The Bodies of the Men Hung at New Albany.

The bodies of Frank, Simon and William Reno, hung by the vigilants at New Albany, on Saturday morning, were delivered to their friends Sunday, and taken home to Seymour for interment. The remains of Charles Anderson were buried by company authorities in the City cemetery, on Monday afternoon. Anderson was at one time mate of the steamboat Louisville, in the Louisville and New Orleans trade.

The Wounded Sheriff.

We learn from the New Albany Ledger that Sheriff Fullenlow, who was shot by the mob on Saturday morning, is not improving much. His wounded arm has become quite painful, and he complains of soreness in the back and limbs.

The surgeons have been unable to find the ball, as it took a direction which leads them to believe that it penetrated the marrow of the bone above the elbow. We trust the wound is not as serious as some are led to believe, and hope he will be able to attend his business in a few days.

A Foot Race.

An old fashioned foot race is to come off on the 10th inst., at New Liberty, in Green county, between Pack Ayers and Mr. Adams, of that town. The race is to be conducted under the superintendence of Mr. James Gayle, distance 110 yards, for $100 a side, speed $300. It will be remembered by old hands at the business who once contested a foot race with Capt. Ike Shultz, who is at present the popular hero of the steamer Tremont. A right time is expected at New Liberty on the coming occasion.

Morron, the Murderer.

Rufus W. Morron, the man who shot and killed Dr. Cheatham, a few months ago, in Todd county, near Elizabeton, was captured about one week ago, and by order of the Judge of the Todd Circuit Court, brought to our jail for safe keeping until his trial takes place. An old grudge had existed between the parties, and Morron sought Dr. Cheatham and killing him one night, after which he mounted a horse and fled his escape. A reward was offered by Gov. Stevenson, and also a brother of Dr. Cheatham, for the apprehension of Morron. We were unable to learn in what part of the country he was captured.

Poisoned by Oysters.

James Geier, a man who visited New Albany in company with Miss Reno and Miss Thompson, of Seymour, on Saturday evening, was taken suddenly ill at the Commercial Hotel that night, and came near dying. The Ledger states that he had all the symptoms of being poisoned, but was saving excepting oysters, and had taken a drink of beer at Seymour before starting. The physician stated that he had eaten them while highly excited, and under such circumstances they will have the effect of poison. Geier is one of the farm hands at the Reno place, and, hearing the news of the lynching of the Reno's, became highly excited, and while in this frame of mind partook of the oysters. He was about on Sunday, and accompanied the corpse of the Reno's to their burial.

Cow Shooting.

Among the arrivals at the Willard Hotel yesterday, we notice the name of General John Tyler, of Virginia. We are happy to learn that his visit to this market and offered for sale, through the efficiency of our excellent police force, quite a number of these cow thieves have been arrested. At the last term of the Circuit Court two cow thieves were convicted and sent to the penitentiary. It seems, however, that the scoundrels are still at work. In the City Court yesterday, Samuel Haight was held in bond of $400 to answer the charge of stealing a cow. The cow, which is said to be generally the property of very poor people, who are dependent upon their substance for half their subsistence.

Assassinate Postponement—Humpy Dumpy To-night.

Owing to the vast amount of complicated secuity and machinery to be arranged for the production of this piece, and the short time allowed the management of the Louisville Operahouse to make the necessary alterations, Humpy Dumpy, the most marvellously equipped actress, was unable to postpone her appearance until to-night. The managers and their assistants worked like leavers to have everything in readiness at the appointed time, and it was only at the eleventh hour that they discovered it to be impossible. Hundreds eagerly applied at the ticket office for admission, and we have no doubt, that a crowded house would have greeted this intemperate troupe of pantomimists had they performed. None, we are sure, regret the postponement more sincerely than Messrs. Burgess and Co., who will be glad to see that simple amends are made thereto in the performances of to-night, and that all who come shall not only be made comfortable, but also secured an evening of more than usual enjoyment.

Bills & Precedents.

There are being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood. It is stated that all the murderers, failing to kill the plaintiff, John H. Pope, had taken the test before getting upon the body of his son, as agent for the auditor, as required by the legislature.

Court of Appeals.

Practitioners, Dec. 14, 1868.—CAUSES DECIDED.

Crutcher vs. Hord et al., Louisville Chancery, affirmed.

Sharp's adm'r's, Proctor's adm'r, & Co., Louisville, original and reversed on cross-appeal.

Taylor vs. Newby, Turner, Madison; reversed.

Hodge, A., vs. Alcock's adm'r, & Metcalf's, reversed.

Borrowed Goods.

Wilkesburg, Dec. 14, 1868.—The Western Wisconsin railroad is now open from Tongue to Flat river mill, and trains are running once a day.

New Albany Ledger.

Our neighbors in much better stand guard over the living than the dead, after what has so recently happened. The New Albany Ledger, however, is to be desired that the body snatchers have greeted this intemperate troupe of pantomimists had they performed.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Geier.

A runner was being circulated in the city this morning, that the body of Charles Anderson from the mob last night had been taken to Louisville. The body was exhumed this morning, and found it was left last evening to hand to watch to see if there was any life left. The body was then removed to the immediate neighborhood.

Death of Mrs. Wm.

DAILY DEMOCRAT

LOUISVILLE:

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 15, 1868.

News by the Mails.

THE STATE.

The state has the largest and finest flouring mills in the State.

A gentleman who went to Newport recently from Boston, for the purpose of testifying against the persons under arrest upon the charge of stealing quartermasters' stores from the Newport Barracks, met some parties on last Friday night, on whom there was suspicion of implication in the larceny of the property, and while drinking beer with them was drugged, and is now lying in a precarious condition.

There are thirty-three registered distilleries in the Covington district, twelve of which are at present in operation, and by the last of the month eight more will be ready to commence. The remaining thirteen are copper distilleries, which will also soon be at work.

The amount of whisky in bonded and distillery warehouses, in the Sixth district, on the first day of December, 1868, was 2,017,420½ gallons.

THE SOUTH.

Nashville has forty jail birds. The White Fawn has gone to New Orleans.

Knoxville has two "rooty loo" candidates in the field for Mayor.

The Jews of that city contemplate building a temple in Macon, Georgia, soon.

The five residents of Mrs. Pfeifer were nearly destroyed by fire in Nashville a week ago.

A pretty young milliner ran away with her mistress' husband in New Orleans a few days since.

In a quarrel at Murfreesboro, Tennessee, a man named was shot and another mortally wounded.

Negro pickpockets relieved a young man from the country of all the money he had, in Augusta, Georgia, a day or two ago.

A contract has been signed to construct a bridge over the Tallahatchie at Tipton, Miss. It will be of iron, sixteen feet wide and cost $100,000.

Mr. George W. Johnson, a well-known citizen of Nashville, took poison and died in that city a few mornings since. The man is whisky.

The Visiting nurse said almost every hour arriving down stream brings a fresh batch of carpenters. The "proclamation" had doubtless excited their public minds.

In Baldwin county, Alabama, several marriages are null and void, having been performed by a discredited justice of the peace.

The largest tax-payer in St. Louis is Daniel Clark, tobacco manufacturer, who paid $1,000 per day to government, and, since war, has paid over $200,000 in revenue taxes.

A Chattanooga paper states that a French gentleman named Bryant has joined the Southern cause, and, with the intention of establishing there a colony of French wine growers.

There are only thirteen candidates for the Legislature in the state of the St. Louis Democrat are not of them.

J. H. Howell, a member of the St. Joe Vintners, and more recently connected with the New York Record and Vintner, is in St. Louis, having dissolved his connection with it.

There is weeping and wailing within the precincts of the New Orleans courthouse. At one fell swoop the Thirteenth street depot by the 22d regiment, who are to receive their pay at the State of Louisiana, and to meet at the Deleaven House the 21st of January, and to convert it into a sumptuous hall.

The Southern Opinion, if not sold privately within the present week, will probably be sold to the public very soon. It is said that a well known newspaper writer in Richmond, intends to purchase it and convert it into a sumptuous hall.

A negro named Gilmer, who is supposed to have murdered Wm. E. B. Richardson, carried his body to Cincinnati, and, upon the arrival of the man upon whom he is employed as brakeman, was, it is said, to fifty last evening and in the early morning.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

In nearly all the counties below Richmonds funds are being collected for the purpose of assisting Mr. E. A. Polk, who is in the service of the Grand Army. It is to be hoped that the amount of $300 has already been raised, and that the sum from the collection of the negroes will be added to it.

The jury in the case of the State against Wm. E. B. Richardson, for killing his son, John, in the street on Saturday last, a young gentleman named George Beach, an attaché of the Gazette, on the afternoon of that day attended the performances at the theater, the performances themselves being entirely absorbed in his attention. On the arrival of the news of the trial, he had been reduced by sixty-one dollars in his pocket, and, further, that the sum of $100 had been taken from his pocket, all of which he had lost.

The party of Indians numbered fifteen, a number of Indians went in pursuit, and, in the end, were captured.

In the case of the State against Wm. E. B. Richardson, for killing his son, John, in the street on Saturday last, a young gentleman named George Beach, an attaché of the Gazette, on the afternoon of that day attended the performances at the theater, the performances themselves being entirely absorbed in his attention. On the arrival of the news of the trial, he had been reduced by sixty-one dollars in his pocket, and, further, that the sum of $100 had been taken from his pocket, all of which he had lost.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.

The Waco, Texas, Examiner is believed to have been captured by Indians near Weatherford, and, after a few hours of torture, was released.